"Take A Look At This, People"

"Believe me, folks, I'm proud of my position in the world."
"From humble obscurity, I have taken the lead and am now swinging the baton in front of the nut parade, through the work of the Planter's."
"Let me tell you something about

Planter's PENNANT

whole blanched

Salted Peanuts

"Before Planter's came along and made a whole salted peanut with their own private process, you were used to seeing salted peanuts cracked and broken, without flavor, and usually stale."

"Well, the object of keeping the Peanuts whole was to retain in PENNANT peanuts the original flavor of the nut, which you know can't be imitated."

"As a result of this, Planter's are making a beautiful big salted peanut, whole and full-flavored, and guaranteed to be always fresh and crisp."

"Friends, the people who love good things to eat gave PENNANT whole salted peanuts a welcome like we gave Dewey when he came back from Manila."

"Naturally, people tried to imitate PENNANT whole salted peanuts. But they can't succeed, because we alone know the secret process for making them."

"Here's the point, to protect you from these imitators, we sell PENNANT whole salted peanuts only in glassine bags like the one in this ad."

"If you don't get your peanuts in a PENNANT bag, you are not getting PENNANT whole salted peanuts."

"Eat 'em and weep because you never tried 'em before."

"Look for the PENNANT bag."
